I am supportive of this. Jennifer has been terrific in moving EtO along. I know final answers are through ITP, but given IARC will pay travel costs afe you both in favor?

David

Jennifer,

You have my support (just make sure that EtO is out ☺).

Preliminary Invitation

IARC Monographs on the Evaluation of Carcinogenic Risks to Humans

Volume 120 – 'Benzene'

10-17 October 2017

Lyon, France

Dear Dr Jinot,

The International Agency for Research on Cancer (IARC) is convening a meeting to develop Volume 120 of the IARC Monographs on the carcinogenicity of 'Benzene'. Information is available on the Monographs programme website at <http://monographs.iarc.fr/ENG/Meetings/index.php>.

In view of your knowledge and experience, we are inquiring as to your interest and availability to serve on the Working Group of this Monograph. Participation for the full duration of the meeting is expected (Saturday included).

As a member of the Working Group, you will receive a writing assignment:

IARC will provide preliminary search results and articles in pdf; participants are also expected to search the scientific literature for additional studies; IARC will assist in retrieving articles if necessary.

The design and relevant results of each epidemiological study and cancer bioassay are summarised in text and tables; mechanistic studies are summarized but are not described individually.

The working papers you write will be peer-reviewed by other participants and you will be asked to peer-review working papers produced by other participants.

The first drafts and revisions will be due several months in advance of the meeting according to the following schedule:

16 June 2017	Preliminary drafts and references due to IARC
14 July 2017	Peer-reviews due to IARC
8 September 2017	Revised drafts and references due to IARC

IARC will provide a pre-paid ticket for travel to the meeting (by economy air or first-class train) and a cash per diem to cover hotel and living expenses in Lyon. (U.S. Government employees should note that no U.S. Government funds will be used for their expenses and no honorarium will be paid.)

Before IARC can consider sending an official invitation, all potential participants must complete the World Health Organization's Declaration of Interests (attached). If you are available and interested in participating, please complete and return the declaration as soon as possible by e-mail (monograph120@iarc.fr) or fax (+33-4-72.73.83.19).

Yours sincerely,

Dana Loomis, PhD
